

Learn about downtown Bloomington's rich history through its buildings.

Look for the QR codes that have been placed in the windows of historically significant buildings around downtown.

QR Codes

Quick Response codes are a type of barcode (pictured above) that can be scanned by smart phones. The codes link to webpage about each building.

Download a QR code reader by going to your app store and searching for "QR code reader." There are several free options.

The McLean County Museum of History is an American Alliance of Museums accredited non-profit institution. It is located in Bloomington IL, and is operated by the McLean County Historical Society.
