Brief History

Doug Williamson, born in Bloomington 8-8-1943, lived in Bloomington-Normal most of his life and taught in District 87 for 30 years. His father-in-law was Charles Merrill Smith, well known minister and best-selling author. For several years Charles did a program on local radio station WJBC, where local people could give their opinion in an every-other-week, two-to-three minute broadcast. When Charles died in the spring of 1985, Doug was offered the opportunity to take his slot and did Forum commentaries for 17 consecutive years.

Scope

The collection includes approximately 430 Forums and a packet of miscellaneous items.

- 18.17 “Camelback Bridge” September 9, 2001 (changes not very dramatic but safety should be improved)
- 18.18 “September 11, 2001” September 20, 2001 (an indescribable event, Americans pull together, we must remember this is going to be a long term effort)
- 18.19 “A Return to the Routine” October 4, 2001 (America slowly getting back to routine, perhaps worrying about some small things would be a relief)

- 18-20 “The BJHS Bomb Threat” October 18, 2001 (coming so close on the heels of 9/11 students and staff took this seriously and everything was very orderly)
- 18.21 “Not a Banner Day for Normal” November 15, 2001 (Normal’s new banners not the right color, hard to read and ripped up by the wind)
- 18.22 “The Trouble With Communication” November 29, 2001 (trouble with some of the early internet services in our towns)
- 18.23 “Time for Some Disagreement” December 13, 2001 (effects of 9/11 still very strong and much unity in evidence but we are also starting to snipe at each other)

Folder 19 Forums 2002

- 19.1 “Travel in a Post 9/11 World” January 10, 2002 (our first flight through airport security, including trunk check here, most measures pretty spotty)
- 19.2 “Building an Arena and a Race Track” January 24, 2002 (arenas, race tracks, cultural districts and parking garage all on the agenda)
- 19.3 “Basic Rights Issues” February 7, 2002 (another forum commentator thinks it is ok to give up rights for security, an awful idea)
- 19.4 “Alternative News Stories” February 21, 2002 (a National Enquirer view of local news)
- 19.5 “The McLean County Historical Society” March 7, 2002 (supporting necessary repair work on the old courthouse, a terrific facility)
- 19.6 “Why the Nasty Campaigning?” March 21, 2002 (negative campaigning prevails even in staid McLean County)
- 19.7 “Republican Power Struggle” April 4, 2002 (infighting among McLean County Republicans, the old guard regains power)
- 19.8 “Seventeen Years of Forum Commentary” April 18, 2002 (looking back at doing 440 forums over seventeen years)
